Letter from the Board Chair
William B. Nance

We are excited about the upcoming March visit to the US and to Montgomery County by the new Mayor of Gondar, Mr. Tekeba Tebabal Abitew. County Executive Leggett extended a formal invitation to him late last year, and we look forward to welcoming him to the county and to giving him a first-hand introduction to the area. We are also working to re-schedule a previously-planned MSC visit to Ethiopia.

MSC orchestrated a productive trip last fall to South Korea and China, which was a great success. A total of 43 people – including County Executive Leggett – traveled to South Korea, and 37 of those continued to China. During the trip, the County Executive signed a Sister Cities Agreement with Daejeon (South Korea) and renewed the Xi’an Agreement. We expect that a number of lasting relationships will develop from these recent visits that will continue to enhance contacts between communities, businesses and individuals on both sides of the ocean (see coverage elsewhere in this Newsletter).

As has been our experience over the past several years, the Morazán Sister City Committee Annual Fiesta – held in early November of last year – was a great success, raising money that helps to continue funding activities in Morazán. The County Executive and Council Member George Leventhal attended the event, as did candidates standing for election to the County Council.

We hope you will join us at our Annual Meeting on Thursday, March 29 from 6 to 8 pm at the Silver Spring Civic Building for good food, music and a thoughtful panel discussion on “The Importance of Global Citizenship” led by our County Executive Ike Leggett.

Last, but not least, I am pleased to welcome two new Sister City Board Members: Nancy Goldberg and Dr. Nicholas Arrindell. Welcome aboard!

NCAAGW Holds Annual Festival

The Northwestern Chinese American Association of Greater Washington (NCAAGW) held its annual Hometown Chinese New Year Festival on January 14th at the Cabin John Middle School in Potomac.

Led by President George Zhou, the festivities were attended by over four hundred who enjoyed delicious cuisine of Northwestern China prepared and donated by local Chinese restaurants while enjoying presentations by many of the area’s leaders. Maryland State Senators Susan Lee, Richard Madaleno, Jr. and William Smith joined Montgomery County Executive Ike Leggett, Montgomery Councilmen George Leventhal and Roger Berliner and Montgomery County Executive Assistant Chief Administrative Officer Lily Qi were among the many who congratulated NCAAGW for their success in advocating for the culture and heritage of Northwest China.

The highlight of the evening was a performance of Chinese traditional music and dance.

Established in 1997, NCAAGW, a tax-exempt 501 (c)(3), boasts over three thousand members and eight affiliates: Northwestern Performing Arts Troupe, Washington Qin Qiang Opera Club, Taiji Friends Club, Photography Friends Club, Traditional Chinese Drum Club, Young Professional Club and Shaanxi Chamber of Commerce who all host regular practices and gatherings throughout the year.
World of Montgomery Festival

The Ninth Annual World of Montgomery Festival was held on Sunday October 15 on the Rockville campus of Montgomery College. More than 7,000 people took advantage of the beautiful fall afternoon to enjoy traditional arts, music, dance, and food from every corner of the globe. Event organizer Elizabeth Gallauresi and the KID Museum realized a vision of providing a unique opportunity for Montgomery residents to experience 21st century global citizenship.

The theme of “Harvest” was showcased in each of the tents representing the countries and cultures of Montgomery County’s Sister Cities in El Salvador, Ethiopia, China, and India. Staffed by the Ethiopian Community Center in Maryland, the tent of Sister City Gondar, Ethiopia offered activities for all ages. Many of the children gravitated towards the Amharic alphabet by sketching their names on paper while their parents enjoyed fresh brewed Ethiopian coffee. Local artisans featured traditional handmade dresses and paintings. Morazán and Xi’an committee volunteers also offered opportunities for exposure to native languages, food and arts. More than a dozen countries were represented in a “Parade of Nations” featuring musicians and dancers of all ages.

Local Ethiopian Students Contribute to Disaster Relief

The destruction of Hurricanes Harvey, Irma and Maria that affected hundreds of thousands of people from all walks of life inspired five Ethiopian students in Montgomery County to act. Exhibiting the community spirit and generosity that defines Montgomery County, a group of elementary school students ranging from the ages of 5 to 10 collected a total of $450 from family and friends at an annual Ethiopian New Year celebration to help children coping with the aftermath of the hurricanes.

Demek Seyoum, President of the Upper County Area Ethiopian Community and Chairman of the Abren Enhun Support Association (AESÁ), contacted the Office of Community Partnerships for advice on organizations providing disaster relief. The group decided on America’s Charities Disaster Recovery Fund recommended by the Center for Disaster Philanthropy (www.disasterphilanthropy.org).

For an annual contribution of $20 or more, you will receive an official Montgomery Sister Cities pin and quarterly email newsletters on our programs and progress. As Montgomery Sister Cities is a 501(c)(3) community nonprofit, your contribution is tax deductible. County Executive Leggett Honors Sister Cities Partner Montgomery College

At the welcoming ceremony of the World of Montgomery Festival on October 15, 2017, County Executive Ike Leggett presented Montgomery College President DeRionne Pollard with a replica of the “World of Montgomery” silkscreen print he commissioned as a gift for Montgomery County’s Sister Cities.

County Executive Leggett expressed his appreciation to Dr. Pollard and her colleagues at Montgomery College who have been strong partners in our Sister Cities program and whose Rockville campus has become the permanent host of the annual World of Montgomery Festival.

The limited edition print was produced by Washington Grove artist Joseph Craig English in 2014 for the County Executive to present to the Mayor of Hyderabad, India. All five of our Sister Cities have now received the print. The print features The Music Center at Strathmore and represents Montgomery County’s diversity through the faces of the musicians of the Maryland Classic Youth Orchestras. An orchestra demonstrates the value of people working in concert for common goals, a perfect metaphor for Ike Leggett’s brand of community leadership.
